PASTOR'S PERSPECTIVE

As hard as it is to believe, Memorial Day weekend has arrived! This weekend is much more than just a three or four day holiday that officially marks the beginning of summer and all the seasonal opportunities the start of summer has to offer. It is a time for travel, family, and enjoyable times. Memorial Day weekend is also a time for us to reflect and remember the many women and men who have given the ultimate gift of their life for our freedom, our country, and its citizenry. Whenever we walk the cemeteries, (and I hope you will take time this weekend to visit a cemetery), we often think of the massive loss of American lives that have been sacrificed for our country. President John F. Kennedy, (whose 105th birthday is today) once said, "the value of society is not measured by what it has done, but by how it remembers." If America's sons and daughters are willing to march, fight, and die for their country, the least we can do is to remember. And remember we do, each Memorial Day.

If anything good resulted from September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks, it has been an increased awareness of patriotism for our country, and a deeper appreciation and respect for those who serve our country, risking their own lives in protecting us and our way of life. Whether it is the spontaneous recognition in an airport given to troops arriving home from military deployment, or the more organized and public recognition offered by various groups and organizations to honor the military, each of these occasions are particularly touching, and each one is heart warming.

One incident I recall focused on a military honoree who was a staff sergeant. He had served a tour of duty in Iraq and two in Afghanistan. As the public address announcer read a statement summarizing the staff sergeant's military career, the spectators in the stadium, one by one, including players, coaches, umpires, broadcasters, and media members, came to their feet and broke out into a thunderous applause. By the time the public address announcer announced his name, everyone was standing and applauding wildly, many with tears of appreciation in their eyes. True to form, the sergeant simply acknowledged this tribute with a grateful wave.

It has been said that heroes are those people who are willing to put their lives on the line for what they believe, be it principles, a family, a country, or the world. A person does not have to die to be a hero, but death does seem to be the crown of heroism. Memorial Day does not glorify death, nor does it encourage sacrifice.

It does call us to remember those whom we promise to remember. This Memorial Day, I hope you will take time to remember those whom you promise to remember. I hope you take time to offer a prayer to God, to watch over and protect the women and men of today's military who are serving throughout the world. I hope you will ask God to embrace those who have made the ultimate sacrifice with peace and life in the Kingdom; those people we have promised never to forget.

I also hope you will offer a prayer of gratitude for those people who serve on a daily basis along with our military — police, firefighters, emergency medical personnel, and those who always walk the extra mile. You make the united States of America the great country that it is!

A special thank-you to Dick Pirozzolo and Doug Johnson for arranging the American flags display on our church grounds for this weekend.
